Head of Academy: Mr A Yeomans

Dear Parents/Carers,

As you will not doubt have read, The Vale Primary Academy is now on Twitter. Twitter is a fabulous way of sharing information and sharing the fantastic learning that happens throughout each day.

Of course in order to make the most of the account we would like to share pictures of the children's achievements. This may often be sharing pictures of the children's work, but it will also include posting pictures of the children achieving and taking part in learning. As I am sure you will all agree, seeing the delight in a child's face as they tackle challenges and learn is something we all take pleasure in and would like to see. In order for the Academy to post pictures of the children we ask that you fill the form below giving us permission to put pictures of your child on Twitter, newsletters and on the website.

Although we are keen to get as many people to permit us to use pictures like this we completely understand that it is your choice and we fully respect whatever decision you make.

As always we appreciate your continued support and feedback.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Yeomans
